Personal Statement: I believe that softball is more than just a sport. To me, softball has taught me most of my life skills, and lessons outside of school, and home. Softball has taught me leadership, and discipline. It has taught me not only how to accept failure, but to turn the times I have failed it into fuel. Just those few examples illustrate that softball is more than a game to me. This sport is my ultimate passion, my motivation to succeed in all that I do, and my constant reminder to never give up even when it gets hard. It is my push to get good grades no matter any academic difficulties I may face. Last but not least, softball has brought all of my closest friends, and loved ones into my life. For that reason alone, softball will always be more than just a game to me. Softball is truly my life.
