Personal Statement: I've been playing softball since I was 10 and I immediately fell in love with it. Softball has taught me so much, leadership, responsibility, to never give up, how to be mentally tough, to be humble and so much more. The motivation, dedication and love I have to this sport is like no other. What motivates me most is my parents and little sisters and my overall family. I'm always looking for ways to get better and improve my overall game because I have the determination to be the best at a collegiate level.
